Hello, Educator!

Welcome to the Let’s Get Ready Educator Guide.

Away from home, you are one of the special grown-ups with whom children feel most comfortable. This gives you a unique opportunity to help them learn about emergencies in a calm and reassuring environment.

This guide, with activities that can complement emergency plans and school safety drills, will help you prepare your children for emergencies. It also gives you tools to connect with parents and caregivers. The Sesame Street friends are here to help children remember important information through songs, drawings, and play!

We Can Get Ready!

You can introduce emergencies using familiar examples from children’s everyday lives. For instance, there are signs and sounds all around us to keep them safe or to tell them that there is an emergency. Here is a simple activity to start the conversation.

What to do:

» Gather children and ask, “What do you do to stay safe when you’re in the car? How about when you are walking across the street? Riding your scooter?” They may talk about seat belts, helmets, or holding hands with a grown-up when they cross the street.

» Explain that there are signs and sounds all around us to keep us safe, too. Hold up the pictures below, and ask them if they can identify what they are. Follow up with a discussion about why we have some of these signs and sounds:

- EXIT SIGN: This sign tells us the way to get out. Just in case we have to get out fast, we can look for this sign. Where do you see an EXIT sign?

- SMOKE ALARM: This is a smoke alarm. If there’s a fire, it will make a loud BEEP, BEEP, BEEP! That means we have to get outside fast and stay outside. Where do you see a smoke alarm?

- FIRE TRUCK WITH FLASHING LIGHTS: A fire truck has a loud siren and bright flashing lights. This tells us that help is on the way! What are some other cars with sirens and bright lights?

- AMBULANCE: The helpers in an ambulance take care of people if they get hurt. What are some other cars and trucks that tell us help is on the way?

KEEP PRACTICING!

Play “Emergency Detectives”: As children walk from one place to another, ask them to be on the lookout for smoke alarms and EXIT signs.
I Know Our First and Last Names

Children feel proud when they learn about themselves! Knowing their own and their caregivers’ whole names is also a very important way to prepare for emergencies.

Directions: Use this sheet to help children learn and repeat important information. They may need your help writing in the blanks.

My Family Picture

Draw a picture of your family in the box below.

What Are the Whole Names of Everyone in Your Family?

I Know Our Phone Number and Address

Children feel proud when they learn about themselves! Knowing basic information like their caregivers’ phone numbers and addresses can also help children if they ever get separated from their caregivers.

Directions: Use this sheet to help children learn and repeat important information. They may need your help writing in the blanks.

My Important Phone Numbers

Write your family’s important phone numbers on the lines below.

My Home Address

Now Practice Dialing

Use your finger to practice pressing the numbers.

EVERYDAY TIP: Explain that 9-1-1 is a special number to call when help is needed during an emergency and there is no other person to help. Pretend by asking questions such as “9-1-1, what’s your emergency?” and “What’s your address?”
Helpers Keep Me Safe and Sound

Our neighborhoods are filled with special helpers who keep us safe: crossing guards, police officers, doctors, and teachers like you. The more familiar they are with these helpers now, the more comfortable they’ll feel with them in case of an emergency.

Directions: Here’s a simple book children can make to get to know their neighborhood helpers. They can color in the pictures while you help cut and staple the pages together.

My Book About Neighborhood Helpers
There are helpers all around to keep me safe and sound!

I’m a teacher.
I help children stay safe as they learn and play at school.

I’m a firefighter.
I help put out fires.

Draw a picture of another helpful person in your neighborhood.

Let’s Make and Share Our Plan

HELLO, FAMILIES!
Our class is participating in an exciting Sesame Street program to prepare for emergencies. Join us to get ready together!

Here are some of the things your child has been learning at school:

- I know our first and last names (whole names of both child and parents).
- I know our phone number and address.
- Helpers all around keep me safe and sound.

Please continue the learning at home by creating a Family Emergency Plan! Use these pages to talk with your family about what you will do and whom to contact if an emergency ever happens. To help children remember the plan, practice this information together at home.

FAMILY PHOTOS:
Adding photos for every family member and your pet can be helpful if you get separated during the emergency.

Let’s Make and Share Our Plan (continued)

Please make copies of your plan and share it with your child’s teacher, along with the other important grown-ups who help care for your child.

Emergency Contacts
Help your children learn who these contacts are, and remind them that these are people who may be there to help and care for them just in case.

1. Out-of-Town Emergency Contact who may not be affected by the emergency and can help make sure you’re all okay. It is often easier to call long distance than to make local calls after an emergency. You can also text.
